LOCAL NEWS.

Rain came down straight and strong at intervals throughout last night.

All the Government schools in the Kingdom will re-open on Monday next.

Waianae is still crying for rain, having only had half an hour of the moist spell until yesterday.

A large brass key, found at corner of Nuuanu and Hotel streets, awaits the owner at the Police Station.

The W. G. Hall brings news of fine rains on the Kau coast, which means thousands of dollars to the plantations there.

Mr. John A. Palmer, business agent, has taken to his old occupation of dispensing drugs in Messrs. Hollister & Co.'s.

The gardens and grounds throughout the city are bright and green from the abundant showers. Visitors may now view Honolulu at its prettiest.

Mr. Pratt has been promoted from third to first sergeant, and Mr. Langley from the ranks to quartermaster sergeant, of the Honolulu Rifles.

The King's Own had a fine drill at the Armory last night. Capt. Sam. Nowlein, it seems, is not exhausted in keeping a quorum in the Legislature.

Residents of Nuuanu Valley, above Judd street, have water all night, since the big pipes were laid, and feel accordingly grateful to the new Minister of the Interior.

Iolani College will re-open on Monday, having two new teachers, from St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, England, who arrived by the last down trip of the Mariposa.

The Hawaiian Board of Missions has changed quarters from the Sailors' Home building, to the rooms at the corner of Fort and Merchant streets, above Egan & Co.'s store.

Wm. Martin, who killed his wife and was acquitted of murder at Waiohine, Hawaii, this week, on the ground of insanity, was brought to town by the W. G. Hall and consigned to the Asylum.

The rain of Thursday night extended from town to the Ewa stream. From the Ewa stream to the Kipapa gulch the ground received no rain. Beyond Kipapa there was no heavy rain. Last week there were good showers for two days at Lihelu ranch.

At yesterday's session of the Police Court Ahini was remanded till the 11th for judgment on a charge of disorderly conduct. Chris. Brown and Kananana forfeited the usual bail for drunkenness. Alex. Nicols was fined $5 with $3 costs on pleading guilty to a violation of the express regulations.

The sidewalks on the lower end of Fort street are in an abominable condition. There are no sidewalks at all leading to the principal passenger steamer docks from Fort street. In wet weather the pedestrian only gets clear of the pitfalls and puddles of the Fort street paths, to get into the bogs and pools between that thoroughfare and the wharves.

A formidable runaway occurred on Nuuanu avenue yesterday afternoon. Two of Hebbard's horses and two of Graham's were hauling a dray loaded with a boiler from the Honolulu Ice Works. Coming down the hill from Judd street a pair of the wheels was fastened, but the chain giving way the weight of the load came full on the wheelers. Taylor, the man who was driving, to save the horses and himself, let them run, and they came down the hill at a tearing pace. When about opposite Mr. Wood's, the driver slewed the team to one side, throwing the horses down and running the pole through a picket fence at the side of the road. The wheelers were hurt some, but no other damage was done, thanks to the driver's skillful handling of the reins.

JUDICIAL CIRCUIT COURT.

Cases Tried at the September Term This Week.

The Third Judicial Circuit Court opened at Waiohine, District of Kau, Island of Hawaii, on Monday morning last, at nine o'clock, and closed on Wednesday evening. Present: Judd, C. J., Lyman, Circuit J., and Rosa, Deputy Attorney General. Messrs. Neumann, Whiting and Peterson, of the city bar, were in attendance, as well as Mr. Hitchcock and other country barristers. Fifteen cases were disposed of in the three days, the Court being in session each day from nine in the morning till nine at night, and on one occasion not rising till 2:30 in the morning. Below is given the calendar with the result of each case tried.

CRIMINAL CASES—FOREIGN JURY.

The King vs. Wm. Martin. Defendant was committed for murder by the District Judge of Waiohine, he having killed his wife with a pair of scissors. Messrs. Neumann and Whiting were assigned as his counsel, who entered a plea of not guilty. A verdict was returned, "Not guilty, being insane," and the prisoner was committed to the Insane Asylum, Honolulu.

The King vs. Kawathae (w.) and Akeneka (w.), gaming; appeal from District Judge Timoteo, Punaluu. Verdict of guilty, and fine of $5 each and costs. D. H. Hitchcock for defendants.

The King vs. Nalimani (k.), malicious injury; appeal from District Judge Timoteo, Punaluu. Nolle prosequi entered. D. H. Hitchcock for defendant.

CRIMINAL CASES—FOREIGN JURY.

The King vs. George Glendon, gross cheat; commitment from District Judge Timoteo, Punaluu. The jury were out from 9:30 P. M. till 2:30 A. M., but failed to agree, standing nine to five for conviction. A motion was made to change the venue to Honolulu, which was not determined. Neumann, Whiting and Hitchcock for defendant; Rosa for the Crown.

From the evidence it appeared that defendant, who was Government school teacher at Pahala, had represented to Mr. G. W. C. Jones, the school agent, that he must have an assistant teacher. Mr. Jones consenting, defendant employed what the former supposed was a competent teacher, and was allowed $20 a month for the assistant's salary. It transpired some time afterward that the assistance employed by defendant consisted of small Norwegian boys, who taught their compatriot and Portuguese juvenile companions in the A. B. C.'s. Defendant drew money to the amount of $547, in various sums from time to time, sending to the school agent receipts signed by the childish "assistants." One of these embryo teachers, who gave evidence in the case, could not read the receipt that bore his signature when it was presented to him in Court. The indictment was for the amount of $60.

The King vs. Wong Hoi Lung, having opium in possession; appeal from the District Judge of Waiohine. Verdict of not guilty. Rosa for Crown; Hitchcock for defendant.

CIVIL CASES—MIXED JURY.

Chung Pew & Co. vs. Manale, refusing duty (section 1,420, Civil Code); appeal from District Judge Timoteo, Punaluu. Jury waived, and judgment for defendant. A Rosa for plaintiff; S. W. Mahelona for defendant.

Wahala vs. Hiwa & Co., violating contract (section 1,123, Civil Code); appeal from District Judge Timoteo, Punaluu. Jury waived. Plaintiff discontinued, as the contract had expired. Hitchcock for plaintiff; Peterson for defendant.

Hiwa & Co. vs. Nahua (k.), deserting bound service (section 1,119, Civil Code); appeal from District Judge Timoteo, Punaluu. Jury waived and defendant discharged from his contract. Hitchcock for defendant.

Kahalepaole vs. Daniel Foster and Wm. Dolloway, assault and battery; appeal from District Judge Martin, Waiohine. Continued till next September term. Hitchcock for plaintiff; Kinney & Peterson for defendants.

CIVIL CASES—HAWAIIAN JURY.

Kelli (k.) vs. Ohialau (w.), deserting husband; appeal from Circuit Judge Lyman, Waiohine. Judgment for defendant; plaintiff to pay costs. No appearance for plaintiff; Hitchcock for defendant.

Hilea Sugar Co. vs. Kapeliela (k.), refusing duty; appeal from Judge Martin, Waiohine. Judgment ordering defendant back to service. Neumann for plaintiff; Rosa for defendant.

DIVORCE CASES.

F. Stuppelbeck vs. Mary Ann Stuppelbeck, libel for divorce. Divorce granted. Kinney & Peterson for libellant.

Eter Starchlouff vs. Anguel Starchlouff, libel for divorce. Publication ordered and venue changed. Rosa for libellant.

Halelaau (k.) vs. Kekini (w.); libel for divorce for separation. Divorce granted. Hitchcock for libellant.

Lapuwaile (k.) vs. Wahala (w.), libel for divorce. Divorce granted. Hitchcock for libellant.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky is not a medicated liquor, but a pure, unadulterated whisky for medicinal use, free from fuel oil and all noxious impurities, and is prescribed by physicians. It is a medicine for the sick and feeble, and a beverage for the million, because it is absolutely pure.

LEGISLATIVE SUMMARY.

Yesterday petitions were presented from the King's Own and the Queen's Own military companies, praying for appropriations of $3,000 and $3,600, respectively, for the purchase of proper arms and accoutrements. The committee on elections, to whom had been referred two election bills, one by the member of South Kona, to amend the law relative to the lists of voters, the other by Mr. Kaulukou, relating to the Boards of Inspectors of Election, divided equally on two reports. The first report is signed by Messrs. Castle, Dole and Wight, and discards both bills. The committee think it is not a pleasant state of affairs that "more than one-half of the elective branch of the Assembly is composed of members of the Boards of Inspectors of Election." They offer a draft of a bill "which provides for the appointment of three disinterested persons by the Governor, for each district, as a Board of Inspectors of Election." The second report recommends the passing of Mr. Kaulukou's bill, and is signed by Messrs. Hayselden, Dare and Kaulukou. Supplementary reports were presented, on which the committee divided as before, the first division recommending an entire reconstruction of the election law and the abolition of the tax receipt system, the others concurring in these recommendations with the exception of doing away with the tax receipts. The report of the committee on ramic cultivation was adopted, giving the Hawaiian Ramic Company in aid of the cultivation and manufacture of the plant $2,500, and a bounty of $7,500 on the exportation, by the company, of ten or more tons of fibre at not less than $100. The Minister of Interior answered the question of Mr. C. Brown, relative to the Japanese store on Fort street, that the store was not licensed. The Minister of Finance answered the question of Mr. S. B. Dole, about the taking of liquors from the Custom House, that none had been taken except such as were required by His Majesty and the Foreign Representatives.

The greater part of the afternoon session was taken up with a lively debate on the third reading of the act to abolish Road Supervisors-in-Chief and the appointment of Boards of Road Commissioners, one of the commissioners to be supervisor. The essential feature of the bill is the provision for paying over to the Road Supervisors the money raised in their respective districts as road tax, to be applied by them for the maintenance of the road service. A motion to indefinitely postpone the bill was defeated by a vote of 22 to 11. The consideration of the items of expenditure, by which the $35,000 appropriated at the commencement of the session for legislative expenses, has been all but exhausted, was in progress the House adjourned.

Arrival of the Yacht Brunhilde.

The New York yacht Brunhilde was sighted fifteen miles east, early yesterday afternoon, and arrived in the harbor about dark. She left Monterey, California, on the 30th of August, and had a very favorable passage. The Brunhilde is a two-top-mast schooner of 179 tons register, and is commanded by her owner, Captain J. J. Phelps, whose friend, Mr. Hillard, accompanies him in the present cruise.

Besides these gentlemen, there are on board first and second officers, boat-swain, ten able-bodied seamen, two stewards and two cooks. The Brunhilde is now out fourteen months on a voyage round the world from New York. She visited all the principal ports in the East via the Suez Canal, going to San Francisco from Yokohama. No mishap has marred the pleasure of the voyage so far, and the vessel has proved an excellent sailer and seaboat. She sits beautifully on the water, has a gallant trim and a superb sheer. Internally the Brunhilde is finished like a palace, in panels of rosewood and cherry, and furnished for the most elegant comfort. The cabin is remarkably roomy and airy for the size of the vessel, and has richly curtained berths along the sides like a railway palace sleeper. A handsome piano stands in one corner, for Captain Phelps to while away the leisure hours at sea with music. The Captain's stateroom opening from the cabin is more commodious and cosy than is ordinarily seen on the finest ocean steamers. The other officers have also choice apartments, and everything is made convenient and easy for the stewards and cooks. What surprises one on going through the vessel is the amount of room there is for everybody and everything, which shows a masterly design in making the best use of the space. There are lots of curios on board from every place visited by the yacht, and the vessel exhibits considerable defensive resources in stands of arms. The Brunhilde will stay here about ten days, and hence sail to Callao, Peru, S. A.

A young Austin, Tex., lawyer was appointed to defend a negro who was too poor to employ counsel of his own. After the jury was in the box the young lawyer challenged several jurymen whom his client said had a prejudice against him. "Are there any more jurymen who have a prejudice against you?" whispered the young lawyer. "No, boss, the jury am all right, but now I want you to challenge de Judge. I has been convicted under him several times already, and may be he is beginnin' to hab prejudice against me."

A GRAND PROJECT.

Elevated Freight Railroad, and Passenger Line to the Pali.

A scheme has been mooted to our reporter which would revolutionize the handling of freight on the water front, and also immensely enhance the attractions of Honolulu to tourists. It is no less than an elevated railroad running along the harbor front, to be used in the loading of vessels with coal, sugar, and so forth. As the cars can be shunted right over the vessel's hold, the advantages will be incalculable.

The other part of the project is an elevated track over the Pali, on a plan similar to a line at Mauch Chunk, Pennsylvania. Going through the city passengers will be whirled along on a line with the top of the first stories of buildings, seeing Honolulu life to advantage below and around them.

It is not stated that the scheme is part of that for which the street railroad charter has just been renewed by the Legislature; but that measure gives ample scope for the inclusion of at least the Pali line. Success to the enterprise, anyway!

The Court at Kau.

The Hon. A. F. Judd, Chief Justice; Messrs. Rosa, Neumann, Whiting and Peterson, of the bar, and Mr. Fehlberr, officer of the Court, returned from the holding of the Third Judicial Circuit Court at Waiohine, Kau, by the steamer W. G. Hall yesterday. A full report of the session appears elsewhere. Other incidents of the trip are herewith given. All that was heard of the volcano was that it was still active. Very important intelligence is that the severe drought on the Kau coast has been thoroughly broken by the recent rains. An idea of the seriousness of the drought may be gathered from the fact that about 200 carcasses of cattle were observed on the Hon. C. R. Bishop's ranch at Kaalualu, on the southern point of Hawaii. Nothing but the hides, that have been stripped, were against the loss. At Pahala there was a rainfall of three inches in five days. Everybody was happy over the fine rains. The Court party all landed at Lahaina, Maui, on Thursday evening, and received a very hospitable reception from the good people of that town. They slept on shore there that night. The W. G. Hall had over 200 passengers on the home trip.
